We have a team of expert conference interpreters who have worked in a wide range of contexts and on an array of topics.

We also provide remote interpreting services for videoconferences and hybrid events.

For more than 30 years now, we have been providing conference interpretation for businesses, diplomats, ministries, scientific conferences etc, covering diverse languages such as French, English, Kiswahili, Arabic ...

We pride ourselves on delivering tailor-made services for all our partners and clients, irrespective of the scale, type of interpretation or languages required.

INTERPRETATION MANAGEMENT

Your one-stop solution for all your interpretation requirements. We take care of everything from putting together a team of interpreters for your event to submitting quotations and arranging for the equipment, leaving you with nothing to worry about.

TYPE OF INTERPRETATIONS

Consecutive Interpreting after the speaker has finished, usually with the help of notes.

Simultaneous Interpreting while the person is speaking, using particular equipment (eg. booths, earphones, microphone).

Whispered or Chuchotage The interpreter is seated or standing with the participants and interprets simultaneously directly into their ear.

Remote interpretation When the interpreter and the participants use videoconferencing and webcasting to transmit the interpretation to any participant not attending in person.
